

Christ Will Come Again

by
Francis X. Gumerlock

October 2010

From the Back Cover:

What should Christians know and believe about the end times, the Second Coming of Christ and related events? Christ Will Come Again elucidates from Scripture the four pillars of Christian eschatology: The Second Coming of Christ, the Last Judgment, the Resurrection, and Everlasting Life.

Francis Gumerlock also weighs in on some of the more controversial issues in Christian eschatology like the signs of the times, the rapture, the millennium, Israel in prophecy, and how to best interpret the Book of Revelation.

Contents

Introduction

- Purpose of This Booklet
- Need for This Booklet

Part 1: Four Pillars of Christian Eschatology

The Second Coming of Christ

- The Second Coming of Christ will be a bodily coming with clouds
- The Second Coming of Christ will not be invisible
- The Second Coming of Christ will be glorious
- The purpose of Christ's Second Coming is to execute the Last Judgment
- The purpose of Christ's Second Coming is not for Him to reign on earth as king
- The Second Coming of Christ will happen at the end of the world but its exact time is unknown to humans
- Errors Concerning the Second Coming of Christ

The Last Judgment

- The Last Judgment in the Gospels
- The Last Judgment in Acts and the Epistles
- The Last Judgment in the Book of Revelation
- Errors Concerning the Last Judgment

The Resurrection

- The resurrection is an important aspect of the Christian faith
- The resurrection occurs at the Second Coming of Christ
- In the resurrection our mortal, perishable bodies will be changed into immortal, imperishable bodies
- The purpose of the resurrection is to stand before the throne of Christ for the Last Judgment equipped to live body and soul for eternity in either heaven or hell
- The "rapture" in Scripture is the resurrection of the living when Christ returns

Errors Concerning the Resurrection

Everlasting Life

When Christ returns, He will take His people to heaven

At the end of time God will burn up this world with fire and create a new heaven and new earth

Christ's kingdom with His people will be forever

Eternal punishment in hell awaits the unrighteous

Errors Concerning Everlasting Life

How Shall We Then Live?

Part 2: Issues in Eschatology

The Olivet Discourse

The View of Partial Preterism

The View of Classic Dispensationalism

The Lord was answering two questions

The near-far, or "now-not yet," principle in Bible prophecy

An Outline of the Olivet Discourse

How early Christian writers interpreted "this generation"

The Book of Revelation

A Combination of Literary Genres

Different Interpretive Approaches

Weaknesses of Using These Approaches Exclusively

An Eclectic Approach

Revelation is not to be read as if in chronological order. Its visions contain recapitulation of the same events

Signs of the End

The folly of interpreting the signs of the end through current events

Sober thoughts from Christian authors on interpreting signs

The Antichrist

Antichrist as anyone who denies Jesus

Antichrist as a very evil man who will live in the last days

Antichrist as a political or religious system

Other beliefs about Antichrist

Preterism

The Rapture

Israel in Prophecy

The Millennium

Part 3: Further Reading in Eschatology

The Book of Revelation

The Olivet Discourse

The Second Coming of Christ

The Last Judgment

The Rapture

Signs of the End

Preterism

The Two Witnesses

Antichrist; Number and Mark of the Beast

The Millennium

Conclusion